BERLIN MARATHON

Berlin is a beautiful city and it’s easy to see why the Marathon is one of the 6 World Marathon Majors. The course of the marathon is one big sightseeing loop through one of the most exciting cities in the world. Unforgettable moments will forever be remembered, especially when running over the final part of the course on the Avenue Unter den Linden through the Brandenburg Gate and past the grandstands on the last 400 meters to the finish line. The start is on the six-lane Strasse des 17. Juni near "Kleiner Stern" in the beautiful Tiergarten Park and the route is traffic-free, very flat and fast. Of course, most of us do not enter expecting to compete with the likes of Kenyan Eliud Kipchoge (world record run of 2:01:39 in Berlin 2018) but to be a part of this race is fantastic and there is no pressure on club or social runners. A stunning finish sees you running through the splendid Brandenburg Gate. The Marathon starts from 9.15am in 4 waves. Time limit is 6 hours and 15 minutes. The day before the marathon a special festive fun run (approx. 6km slow jog) is offered for the thousands of international runners, a wonderful route starting at Charlottenburg Palace and ending in the Olympic Stadium.
